Daníel Magnús B. Ásgeirsson has been employed at Rafal ehf. since May 2021, first as an electrical apprentice and then as an electrician. For the majority of the time he has been here, Daníel has worked as an electrician in our production department where his responsibilities were the building and cabling/wiring of control panels, house panels, and larger distribution panels. It is noteworthy to mention that at the start of his employment he was in the Department of Electrical Energy and Distribution as an apprentice making high voltage terminations, high voltage line work and the installation of low-voltage equipment in substations.

Daníel has always shown high interest and high effort into deliverning his jobs with the utmost professionalism. He is active, full of ideas and quick to dedicate himself to new challenges, which shined through when he was tasked with product design/development at the company and solved the task with splendor. He shows initiative and work with a solution-based mindset when it comes to solving tasks.

We put a lot of emphasis on the importance of teamwork and Daniel has always done well in teams and cooperation, he has a positive attitude and recieves excellent reviews from his coworkers. He has all the means to lead groups that deal with different assignments.

It has been absolutely wonderful to work with Daniel and I am willing to give him my utmost best reccomendation.

Sincerely,

Sigrún Hrafnisdóttir, Head of Production
